Fewer students have meant less teachers working at Central this year. Never the less, the faculty maintained a balance of the exuberance of the young and relatively untried teachers with the guidance of older and more experienced teachers while preparing students for sales jobs, college courses, bookkeeping positions and skilled factory work. Subjects and the instructors are found in the

Academic Section Page 18

Extra curricular activities as old as Math Club, founded in 1913, and as new as D.E.C.A. (Distributive Education Clubs of America), established just this year, have given students an opportunity not only to attend but also serve their school. Student spirit, service and support groups, excluding athletic teams are pictured in the Organization Section Page 42

Almost since its establishment, Fort Wayne Central and great basketball have synonymous. Football and track and field events also have a glowing history at Central. Wrestling and Tennis have been included in the comprehensive sports program. This spring golf has been added to the school's athletic endeavors as layed out in the

Sports Section Page 72

For the first time in the school's history, no freshman are among the students walking through the halls, working in the classrooms or joining the various activities and teams. This year only three classes, those of 68, 69 and 70 make up the Central Tigers. These seniors, juniors and sophomores are found in the

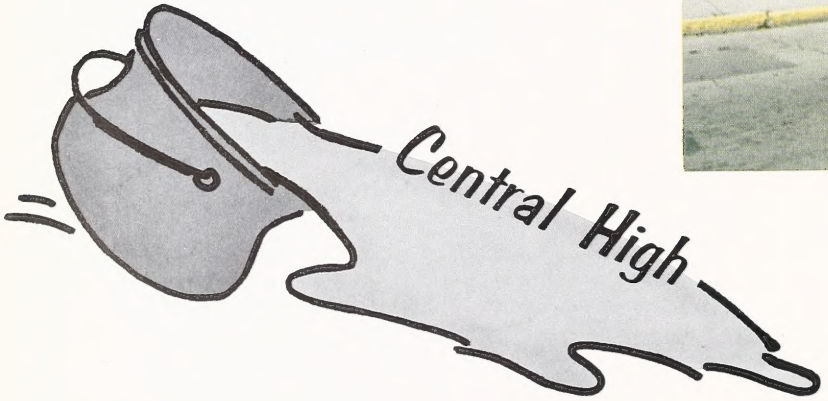
These four ingredients, each a complex mixture of its own special parts, have been combined and blended together to make

Central High School, 1967-68



Central is, first of all, people. From many backgrounds and heritages, students and teachers come together to share knowledge and experience to form one group working together and known as Tigers.

Central is spirit. This enthusiasm may be the determination of an individual student to do his best at whatever he attempts in high school or the boisterousness of the Tiger Kittens and cheerleaders.

GRIFFIN

Central is sports. On the track, field and court, Tiger Power is demonstrated by the school's athletes. Winning the basketball sectional this year has been one of the thrusts of T-Power.

Central is social events. Clubs are joined and dances are attended by the Tigers to make new friends and to be with old ones. Highlighting all social activities is the annual Junior Prom.

One of the biggest events for the Class of 1968 was their Junior Prom, "Polynesian Sunset." The setting was a tropical atmosphere as the cafeteria was converted to resemble an island paradise.

At 10:30 p.m., the court and queen were introduced as they entered the room through the center doorway. All members of the court entered first, followed by the crown bearer, and the queen.

After the coronation, she led the next dance with the Junior Class President, Oscar Dowdell. After starting the queen's dance, Penny was joined by her escort and other couples attending the dance. During the grand march, the girl s attending the dance received their dance programs. At midnight, everyone left for the After Prom Party at the Hobby Ranch House.

Mrs. Natalie Hewes and Mr. George Surber, sponsors of the Class of 1968, supervised the planning and decorating for the prom.

After being crowned Queen of the 1967 Junior Prom, Penny Ferguson reigns over the prom from her throne of pink papier-mache molded into a large sea shell and draped with pink netting.

Central is primarily studies. Reading books, writing out exercises, doing laboratory and shop work are the major part of a student's life. A place to catch up on the reading and writing for many pupils is study hall.

Central is recognition. For a job well done, students receive letter jackets, club pins, activity sweaters, award trophies or the praise of teachers, parents and fellow pupils at an honors banquet.

Central is graduation. The common goal of Central students is to be a high school graduate. After four years of books, tests, activities and fun, members of this year's senior class can say, "I made it."

Math, science include many fields of study

Mathematics is the fundamental basis to science, technology, home making, and business. From general math to analytic geometry, students have learned why mathematics is important and how it will help them in their daily lives.

Through science, students are able to keep up with new discoveries and acquaint themselves with science. Also, students are able to understand a little of the mystery that surrounds him concerning himself, earth, and the universe.

For the first time at Central, zoology is offered to the students. Other subjects in science are physics, chemistry, physical geography, botany, and biology.

Math teachers are Miss Leona Plumanns, head of the department; Mr. Russel Rowe; and Mr. Robert Dornte. Science teachers are Mr. Richard Levy, head of the department; Mr. Bernard Richardville; and Mr. John McCory.

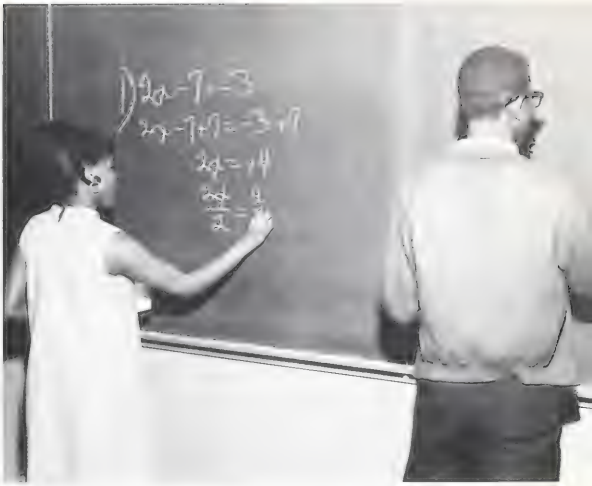
Zoology students believed the only way to get to know the different types of animals was to dissect them and see what made them breathe. These students were in the process of dissecting a fish.

Illustrating a problem is one way students help their fellow classmates to understand the problem. Pete Lytle and Peggy Wallace explain a problem in analytic geometry.



Showing their classmates how to work a problem, these students write the problem on the board in general math. Shirlene Davis and Alfred Edwards work out the answer to the equation.

Examining a human skeleton, these biology students get a better idea of what people are made if. After a thorough examination the three students decided against their planned crash diets.

Advance speech students were often grouped together to form a panel for discussions to deliver to their classmates. Members of the panel seem to be in complete agreement, except for the outnumbered female of the group. Panel members are Jon Smith, Kathy Harris, Harry Griffin, and Charles VanPelt.

English includes reading and writing

The department at Central that stands out by itself unique is the English Department. English is the foundation to other fields and subjects. In order to communicate with others, one must have good usage of English grammar in both writing and speaking. Through books, English is learning what one doesn't know. Also, English helps one to mature and discover the answers to one's questions. All this is provided here to all students.

Another must are the reading classes which all students are required to attend for nine weeks. In the weeks, students use reading machines, vocabulary workbooks, and comprehension workbooks.

The English Department is headed by Miss Catherine Jackson, and English teachers are Mrs. Irene Rahmer, Mrs. Madeline Thompson, Miss Pamela Perrigo, Mr. F. Wayne Brown, Mr. James McFadden, Mr. Delmar Proctor, Mr. Thomas Ollenburg, Mr. Dan Howe, and Mr. Kenneth Crague, librarian.

Kenneth Crague—Came in 1966; Librarian; attended Purdue.
Daniel Howe—Came in 1967; Assistant football and basketball coach; BS Ball State University; attended The Citadel and St. Francis College.
Catherine Jackson—Came in 1936; Head of English Department; attended Cambridge University in England; BA Indiana Normal School, MA Columbia University.
James McFadden—Came in 1939; sponsor of Forum Club; coaches speech team; sophomore sponsor; AB Manchester College; BS Indiana University.
Thomas Ollenburg—Came in 1967; publication advisor; Press Club Sponsor.
Pamela Perrigo—Came in 1966; sophomore class sponsor; Kitten advisor; BS Huntington College.
Irene Rahmer—Came in 1945; BA Manchester College; MA Columbia University; attended Ball State University and University of Michigan.

Foreign Language students use machines

Vera Baumgartner John Baughman

Vera Baumgartner—Came in 1950; teaches Latin and English; BA Wheaton College; MA Indiana University; attended Winona Lake School of Theology.

John Baughman—Came in 1954; teaches French and Spanish; attended Purdue University and Ball State; AB Indiana University.

"Hablo espanol. I speak Spanish." This is what Spanish students can tell people after finishing two years of Spanish. Students at Central learn that the study of foreign languages develops perseverance and exactness in daily habits which make for better living.

Nearly all colleges require two years of a foreign language for entrance. Foreign languages are not only useful for world travelers, but they give students insight into other people's way of life and their customs through the study of their everyday speech and the reading of their literature.

In a world where an understanding of others' backgrounds and ideas is becoming increasingly important, the foreign language student is becoming prepared to do his part.

Latest equipment is used in the foreign language classes such as the reading machines. Spanish, Latin, and French are offered.

Translating Latin into English comes easy for these second year Latin students. After having the experience in first year Latin the young linguists have little trouble in quickly translating the language.

Varied courses covered in social studies

When one thinks of social studies, one automatically thinks of history. History not only teaches students about the past but also the present, and it may in some instances predict the future. In history, students learn of the civilization and culture of men, and the achievement of men on earth.

However, social studies is not all history, it too is government, economics, and sociology. In government, students understand how the government operates. In economics, students understand economic situations of the country and the world and how it will affect them. In sociology, students understand man in relationship with others.

The second largest department in Central, the social studies department is headed by Mr. Clifford Richards. Other social studies teachers include Mr. Robert Dille, Mr. Howard Schneider, Mr. Warren Eviston, and Mr. Kenneth Ormerod.

Machines used to aid business students

The newest course in the business department is Distributive Education. In Distributive Education, students spend three hours in school studying business subjects and other required subjects, then, the students go and work for their selected firm under the guidance of the Distributive Education instructor, Mr. Thomas Lowenhar. Central is one of the three schools in the Fort Wayne School system in which the course is offered.

Girls who plan to be secretaries and any student who seeks any form of business as an occupation can find assistance through Central's fine business courses. One does not necessarily have to enter a business field to make good use of business training, for many of the courses are helpful in everyday life. As our world is becoming more modern, more emphasis is being placed on the business aspects of the country. Mr. Robert Dellinger is head of the department with Mr. Buzz Doerffler, Miss Georgia Heal, and Mr. Barrie Peterson assisting him.

Industrial Arts offers training courses

Handling tools is an art for the skilled shop boys. They learn much in the field of automation by utilizing the shop laboratories and classes which are here to give them the best in mechanical education. Modern shop laboratories with the latest up-to-date equipments and skilled and educated instructors train these boys with all the mechanical background needed. The various phases of the industrial arts courses are auto, wood working, machine, welding, electricity, and drafting.

Central has the largest complete field of Industrial Arts of any high school in the Fort Wayne area. The boys get a touch of what the work will be like when they graduate and move into advanced fields, and thus will be a great benefit to them.

The faculty of the Industrial Arts Department includes Mr. Dwight Alvis, Mr. Clifford O'Brien, Mr. Richard Rian, Mr. Kenneth Yager, Mr. George Suber, and Mr. Marvin Todd, department head.

Correcting the errors in the Spotlight, the journalism students learn to copyread, while they point out errors to the staff writers.

Girls in Home Economics learn valuable skills

Who says being a housewife is easy? Our modern housewife has to be a nurse, chef, bookkeeper, grocer, seamstress, and maid. How to live at home is always in consideration, and our school helps to meet this problem. Because Central's girls will spend most of their lives in the home, some of the school day for the home economics student is devoted to homemaking.

Some of the phases of the home economics course are child care, family relations, home management, sewing, and food preparation. Also, sewing machines, a modern, up-to-date kitchen, and the very best literature are employed to give the very best possible home economics education. This course helps pupils in personal growth and development. This department contributes to society a healthier, happier, and more responsible individual. Also, it contributes to the objectives of all education through the problems primarily concerned with the home and family living.

Gym classes emphasize physical fitness

Lenna Arnold
Physical Education Teacher

The purpose of physical education is to encourage teenagers to practice sportsmanship, to learn to work together as a team, and to keep themselves physically fit and strong. Central's physical education instructors urge them to do work toward these goals.

Boys and girls learn sportsmanship in the many games played in class. Girls learn the fundamentals of volleyball, tennis, softball, and girls' basketball. They then apply the skills by participating in the games. Boys play basketball, baseball, and volleyball to build sportsmanship. In these team sports, the high schoolers also learn to work together and to share team responsibility.

Boys keep physically fit when they are enrolled in physical education. Each day the period starts with a full round of calisthenics. Jumping jacks, sit-ups, pull-ups, push-ups, and scissors all are familiar terms. In the spring, boys and girls condition their bodies with daily competition on the outdoor track.

Artists develop creativity, skills

Daniel Decker

Carolyn Wadlington

Daniel Decker—Came in 1967; Art Club sponsor; BS Indiana University.
Carolyn Wadlington—Came in 1960; Head of Art Department; BA and MA St. Francis College.

Sketching, ceramics, lettering, poster-making, figure fashion, and interior decorating are five fields in which the Art Department specializes. Many pupils have made their careers in teaching art, gift wrapping, advertisement, exterior decoration, and interior decoration after majoring in art in high school. Our artists have enlivened Central with their art work. One bulletin board is especially reserved for the art classes' creative works. The best equipment aids our pupils in their work.

These future artists are now attending classes which help them stimulate their abilities by participating in creative activities offered by the various classes. They learn all forms of art and decoration as well as how to apply materials, technique. and different tools of their profession. Art students do not only work with their hands but also have tests over the history and theory of art.

Sketching designs on pads in first year art is required before making full scale pictures. Ann Miller, Don Gross, and Pam Ruthsatz are in final stages before reproducing their design.

Band, choir students expand talents

An appreciation and understanding of music was shown when the band and choir had their concerts and participated in special school events.

A note of cheer was put into the hearts of basketball, football, and concert audiences this year by Central's band. The band furnished music for the half-time show and parades.

The Choir, like the band, emphasized leadership, cooperation, ability, and enjoyment as regards to music. The choir in showing their appreciation of music performed both inside and outside of the school. The choir is divided into smaller groups such as the Swing Choir, Harmonaires, Harmonettes, and Training Choir.

The band and choir combined for three night concerts during the school year for the student body, in the fall and spring. Mr. William Wetzel is the director of the choir and Mr. David Marr of the band.

Office personnel counsels, guides students

Many persons are involved in the maintenance and operation of Central. On the top of the list is Lester L. Grile, Superintendent of Fort Wayne Community Schools. Next is the school board which works to insure the proper academic environment throughout the school system. Principal Paul Spuller is "boss" here. He works in direct cooperation with Mr. Grile and the school board.

Miss Emma Adams is the Dean of Students. She also makes out the programs for the students. Mr. Richard Horstmeyer is the Dean of Boys, and Mrs. Patty Martone is the Dean of Girls. Mr. George Tricolas is Guidance Co-ordinator. Mr. Herb Banet and Mr. Paul Bienz are full time guidance counselors, and Mr. Mark Schoeff is Athletic Director.

Mrs. Claudia Ackley is the treasurer. Attendance is taken care by Mrs. Mary Watson and Mrs. Mary Allen. Mrs. Mildred Keuneke, Mrs. Kay Bohlender, Mrs. Margaret Best, and Mrs. Lillian Nickowski are office secretaries.

Math Club attempts interesting problems

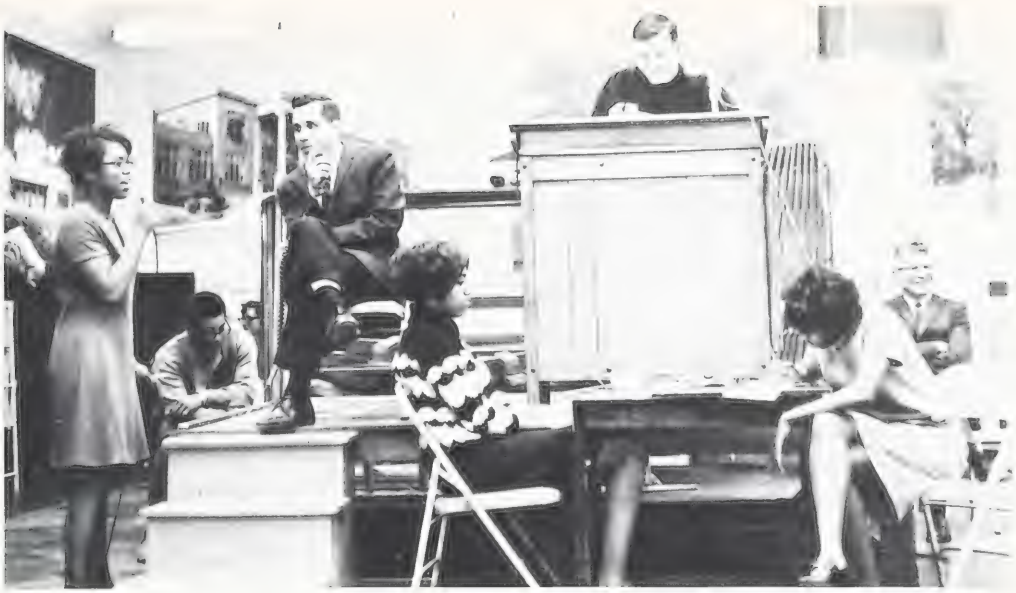
Working out a solution to a math problem, the officers of Math Club prepare to stump the members of the club. The officers are David Long, treasurer; Leslie Howard, Vice-president; Wendy Sanders, secretary; and Allan Ray, president.

Transforming a hexagon into a square, discussing famous mathematicians, and learning about Pascal's triangle have kept Math Club members busy this year.

In addition to regular weekly meetings, the club has planned field trips to local businesses which use mathematics to a great extent in their operation. Special initiation ceremonies and a picnic have also been on the group's agenda.

Through these activities, the club strives to meet its purposes of developing an appreciation of the several fields of mathematics, investigating interesting phases of mathematics for which there is no class time, and bringing teachers and students of mathematics closer together.

Serving as officers have been Allan Ray, president; Leslie Howard, vice-president; Wendy Sanders, secretary; and Dave Long, treasurer. Miss Leona Plumanns is Math Club sponsor.



Judge Dexter McCormick chuckles at the testimony given by Mr. Richard Levy, as Sandra Hassell questions the witness at the Anthony Wayne Club mock trial. Rosilund Price and Sue Jordan serve as court recorders during the trial of Tommy Jackson who was accused of loud talking in the halls.

Anthony Wayne Club considers history, law

"Mad Anthony Wayne," as he was nicknamed, will never know of the active and eager club at Central High School which was named after him. Anthony Wayne was a local history figure respected not only by the Anthony Wayne Club, but by all Americans.

To encourage an active interest in local history and government is the purpose of Anthony Wayne Club. A visit to Historical Museum, program meeting on Old Quebec, a Christmas Party, Parents' Night (mock trial), a local history tour and a picnic kept the members busy.

The regular meetings of the club were twice a month. Initiation of new members was the highlight of one meeting. Officers were: first smester—Doris Jordan, president, John Jordan, vice-president; Harry Griffin, treasurer; and Andrea De Wolf, secretary. For second semester are Julius Bank, president; Letitia Hatcher, secretary; and Alfreda Walker, treasurer. Advisor is Mr. Clifford Richards.

Hi-Y Club shares in sports, service

Boxing paperback books for the book drive for the boys in Viet Nam, the officers of Hi-Y take a leading hand in the project. Officers of the club were Charles VanPelt, vice-president; Frank Yancey, Jr., secretary; Jerry Muff, president; and Steve Smock, treasurer.

With the stated purpose "To create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and church high standard of Christian character", Hi-Y Club members have participated in activities ranging from bake sales to YMCA sponsored Youth in Government Day.

Early in the year, members held a paperback book drive for the armed forces serving in Viet Nam. In addition to organizing numerous intramural sports teams, Hi-Y'ers sponsored two bake sales, a car wash and an all school record hop. Representatives of Central's Hi-Y served in the mock state legislature in Indianapolis during the YMCA Government Day this spring.

Leading the club in its aim to build "Clean Sportsmanship, Clean Scholars, Clean Lives and Clean Speech" have been officers Jerry Muff, president; Dexter McCormick, vice-president; Frank Yancey, Jr., secretary; Steve Smock, treasurer; Dan Purdue, chaplain; and Willard Gaines, sergeant at arms. Sponsor of the group is Mr. Barrie Peterson.

Rifle Club perfects markmanship, safety

Affiliated with the National Rifle Association, Central's Rifle Club has given its members this year a chance to earn rankings in the N.R.A. and at the same time hold matches with other schools.

In addition to shoot-outs with Concordia, North Side, South Side and New Haven schools, members could work toward pro-marksman, marksman, marksman 1st class and sharp shooter N.R.A. rankings.

To buy additional guns and to keep a constant supply of shells on hand, the club sponsored a bake sale and car wash.

Sponsorship of the club rotates among the various coaches who work with the club when their sport is not in session. Officers for the year have been Howie Johnson, president; Paul Hughes, vice-president; Bill Wagner, secretary.

Student Council recognizes faculty, student dedication

Apples for teachers, flowers for custodians, groceries for needy families, and a variety show for students have been some of the projects planned by the Student Council this year.

During American Education Week, council members placed an apple in each teachers mail box to show student appreciation of the teacher's concern for pupils. As part of Courtesy Week, the council presented each custodian with a carnation and the group with an award plaque in recognition of the outstanding cleaning job the janitors do for the school.

In addition to selling school sweatshirts, council members served as the planning committee for the spring talent show.

Besides working on specific projects, Student Council members encouraged students to participate in school affairs, to practice the ideals and techniques of democracy, to foster a spirit of co-operation between student and faculty and to participate effectively in making decision by which all students will be affected.

D.E.C.A. forms new chapter at Central

Setting up class room displays are members of the newly formed Distributive Education Club of Central. Seniors Doris Jordan and Brenda Howell dress the class room mannequin.

An employer-employee banquet held this spring to honor local businesses that participated in the Fort Wayne Community School's distributive education program ended Distributive Education Club of Central's first year at the school.

A part of the new distributive education classes in Distributive Education Clubs of Fort Wayne and Distrithe business courses, D.E.C.A. holds membership in butive Education Clubs of America. The group has been set up to develop future leaders in the marketing and distribution fields. In club meetings, vocational understanding, civic consciousness, social intelligence and leadership development are discussed.

In addition to participating in local, regional, state, and national contests where they demonstrated sales ability, D.E.C.A. members have held several candy sales and held a Christmas party for a children's home in the area.

Senior officers were Karen Mabee, president; Sharon Black, vice-president; Mamie Chapman, secretary; and Roberta Butler, secretary-treasurer. Sponsor for the group is Mr. Thomas Lowenhar, distributive education teacher.

Speaking and speeches have been the concern of the Forum Club this year.

Besides attending speech contests at other schools, club members participate in their own annual intramural speech contests. Categories in these contests include humorous, dramatic, extemporaneous, oratory, original oratory, impromptu, radio and poetry. The group also has taken a field trip to a local radio-television station.

While the purpose of the club is to stimulate interest in various speech activities and give practice in developing poise and clear, effective communication, the group also sponsored an all-school dance. This dance revived the tradition of selecting a football queen and her court.

Mr. James McFadden has sponsored the group while Joyce White has served as president, Seno Brown as vice-president and Karen Teel as secretary.

Service Workers collect absence slips, aid teachers

The service workers of Central High School are an essential part of running an efficient school. It would be almost impossible for Central to function properly without the service workers grading papers, taking attendance, checking books in and out of the library, filing absence slips, serving at the different banquets, and running errands. Many teachers are relieved of grading papers and handling special problems by the service worker. There is no pay for these workers. They do receive points which apply to pins awarded at the end of the year.

There are special parties during the year for the workers such as the Christmas party and a breakfast in the spring for the purpose of giving awards to those who have worked throughout the year and have earned enough points.

The club has no special meeting time, but there are various meetings called throughout the year to discuss different jobs, and different topics. There is no special project or officers of the club. The service workers are mainly concerned with being efficient in their job and services to the teachers and to the school.

The sponsors of Service Club are Mr. Kenneth Crague, the librarian; Mrs. Mary Watson, attendance clerk; and Mrs. Mary Allen, study hall clerk.

Art Club decorates for holidays, sports

Planning a wall file for 1968 are Art Club officers Sol Mathias, secretary-treasurer; Paula Loveless, president; and Janice McGee, vice-president.

Planning and preparing decorations for pep sessions, dances, and the various holidays has kept Art Club busy this year.

At Christmas time members decorated a Christmas tree in the school cafeteria by making ornaments out of styrofoam balls and cut sheet metal. During basketball season, members filled the halls of Central with posters and banners and covered the floors with tiger tracks.

During regular meetings, the group studied the current trends in art and planned their annual Valentines Day dance, called this year "Heart and Soul."

Officers for the years have been Paula Loveless, president, Janice McGee, vice-president and Sol Mathias, secretary-treasurer.

Workers toil daily to publish newspaper and yearbook

One of the biggest events of the school year is Caldron distribution day. Each year students examine their own books and sign the books of their friends. Producing an accurate account of the year's events in the form of a yearbook is the job of the Caldron staff.

To produce an informative newspaper as well as an entertaining one is the job of the Spotlight staff. They strive for quality and quantity in writing and complete coverage of school activities.

For both publications, stories had to be written, typed, headlined, and sent to press. All this work meant time spent in preparation every day of the week. Deadlines are extremely important to the editorial staff. The routine and informality of the work soon became a part of each publications worker.

Charles Green, editor; Charles Imbody, business manager; and Thomas Mack; photographer are the very important people on the Spotlight staff. Due to the illness of Mr. Thomas Ollenburg, publications advisor, Mrs. Diane Passwater and Mrs. Rose Schoonover substituted for him for the rest of the year.

Getting away from it all seems to be the news editors idea of relaxing after meeting all her deadlines. Junior Jackie Byrd, after putting in a hard week of work, sums it up by saying, "that's Life."

Marching Tigerettes add to sports events

Glittering batons, braid trimmed uniforms and a smart marching step have been brought to Central's home football and basketball games and pep sessions this year by the twirlers.

In addition to working with the Color Guard in the presentation of the flag and the National Anthem at the beginning of the home games, the twirlers prepared special routines for half time. In the special pep sessions before the regional basketball tourney the twirlers were featured with each girl doing a short solo routine.

Band marches, plays to entertain students

Providing a year of music has been the mission of the band this year under the direction of Mr. David Marr.

Meeting daily as a class, members spend many hours in the band practice room and on the football practice field preparing games, a special Christmas concert and a concert in one of the local parks in the spring.

Band parents hold a fish fry each fall and this year also sold key chains with Tiger pendants during the basketball sectional period to provide money for the new uniforms.

A special part of the band has been a color guard to present the school, state, and national flags at the beginning of all home football and basketball games.

Officers for the year have been Janet Kennedy, president; Janice Spitler, vice-president; Jeanette Ambrose, secretary-treasurer; Duane Donahue, drum major; Norma White, head twirler; and Tracy and Tim Hawkins, managers.

Singing members of the concert, varsity, and training choirs have had a busy schedule to follow throughout the 1967-68 choir season. Choir members have appearances in school and outside the school.

The choir was certainly a busy organization as they divided up into smaller groups including the Harmonaires and Harmonettes to sing certain numbers. The choir practiced five days a week in preparation for the concerts they gave with the band, as well as for the performances they gave at the various holiday assemblies. The music department has shown great ability and feeling in the concerts they have performed this year. Central will remember the choir and its performances.

Mr. William Wetzel is Central's choir director. He trained the choir for the concerts and the state music contests. The choir officers who aided Mr. Wetzel were Richard Henderson, president; Gail Rice, vice-president; and Linda Turner, secretary.

Lettermen earn letter jackets, honors

"Good Luck, team, Good Luck," was expressed in many different ways at the regional pep session. Tokens of good luck were presented to teams from the classes, teachers, and other city school representatives.

Any boy who has earned his jacket in one or more competitive sports may be a member of Central's Lettermen's Club. This club is responsible for various activities throughout the school year. Among their many tasks they are responsible for the changing of the activities board on the front lawn. "Soul Sit-in" was the theme for their annual dance which featured The Grasshoppers and the Tics.

The club functions under the supervision of Mr. Robert Dille, and the officers this year were Charles Van Pelt, president; Jon Smith, vice-president; Charles Imbody, secretary; and Charles Myatt, and Joe Timberlake, sergeant-at-arms. These people shouldered much of the responsibility of having a successful year. The letter jacket which each member wears is a symbol of his high position of honor in the school.

Booster Club sells concessions, encourages spirit

Hot dogs, peanuts, pop corn, candy and pop, all the goodies associated with sports events, have been sold by members of the Booster Club at all home football and basketball games this year.

To further school spirit at away games, the Club sponsored two bus trips to out of town basketball games at Marion and Tipton. Club members also sponsored an all school dance after one of the basketball games and a pep session.

During regular meetings, members discuss additional ways to build school spirit among Central students and make plans for the concession sales. Each Christmas season, the club holds a banquet and each spring has a picnic.

Officers for the year have been Mary Curry, president; Linda Tharp, secretary; and Shirley Peterson, co-secretary. Council members have been seniors, Jeanette Ambrose, Jeanetta Brownlee, Sue Hassell; juniors, Sue Jordan, Vera Scruggs, Mary Triggs; sophomores, Ora Jean Blunt, Marcia Fields and Tina Kirk. Mr. John McCory and Mr. Bernard Richardville are Booster Club sponsors.

Many of the Booster Club members helped cheer their athletes by forming a cheerblock between selling at the games. They sat in a group at the games.

Boosting their Tiger team to a Sectional Crown, these boosters sign a large scroll with the names of the juniors on it, to be presented to the team. Several similar signs were hung around the building by the Booster Club.

Girls Athletic Association, swims, bowls

Winter swimming and bowling have been major activities of the Girls Athletic Association (GAA) this year.

Wednesday night swims at the YWCA and after school bowling at local alleys occupied the time for GAA members along with such sports as volleyball, basketball, kinball, tumbling, softball, archery, table tennis, and badminton. Helping girls learn sportsmanship and fair play, the club's purpose is to also help them develop physically and mentally.

Each spring the club holds an awards banquet where trophies are given to the teams which have earned them during the year. Letters, numerals, sweaters, and chevrons are also awarded and officers for the coming year are announced.

One of the parent sponsored activities here at Central was a fish fry. Senior Jeannette Ambrose and her smaller sister and brother watch as some of the fish is being prepared.

Back to School Night was one of the activities of Central's Parent-Teachers Association. Parents were invited to attend their children's classes at night for a few minutes so that they would have a better understanding of Central's program.

The P.T.A. had several city and county officers speaking at several meetings of the organization. At one of their meetings Mr. Paul Spuller, principal of Central High School, was given a life-time membership in the Parent-Teacher Association because he has been an active member for many years.

This year's officers were Mrs. Robert A. Phillips, president; Mrs. Daniel Purdue, first vice-president; Mrs. Louis Simmons, second vice-president; Mrs. Richard Teel, secretary; and Mr. Richard Horstmeyer, treasurer.

Sports

The Tigers copped their fourth straight City Series Crown, the Columbia City Holiday Tournament, the sectional title, and had a season record of 19-5. The Bengals defeated Concordia 62-54 in the championship game to claim the Sectional No. 2 crown.

Central also established a new city record by winning the most consecutive City Series contests. Late in the 1965 season North Side was the last team to defeat the Tigers and then the Blue racked up 26 straight City Series games. The 26th win came over South Side late in this year's campaign and Central Catholic's Irish ended the string with a 60-59 win on the last regular season game. The Irish were also the spoilers in the tourney as they ended the Tigers tourney hopes in the first afternoon game of the Regional with a 58-52 upset.

This year's team was probably the most exciting team that coach Bob Dille has ever coached as some of the highlights featured a 68-67 win over a tall Marion club at Marion. The Tigers won in the last 12 seconds on a 25-foot jumper by Charlie Reese. Late in the season the Tigers found themselves down by 13 points going into the final quarter at Tipton. Central, using its tenacious all-court press fought back and tied the game with one second remaining as Reese, in a jump ball situation, tipped the ball to Dick Lowery who put it in as the buzzer sounded. Central won in overtime 68-66 on Reese's jump shot with less than five seconds to go in the overtime. Indianapolis Crispus Attucks had the Tigers down by 17 points late in the third quarter and the Bengals pulled the game out in overtime by winning 77-75.

In the semi-final round of the sectional Snider's Panthers had the Blue on the end of the ropes as they had a seven point lead with three minutes remaining. Central staged a dramatic comeback and won 70-67. The last two Central points came with about five minutes after the game was over as Lowery was fouled at the buzzer and the officials had to get him out of the locker room to shoot his free throws as he was celebrating with his teammates.

Central's other losses besides the two to CC were to Anderson, Huntington at Huntington, and Elkhart.

For the third straight year the Tigers dominated the All-City Basketball squad by placing three men on it. Senior guards Charlie Reese and Harry Griffin along with center Dick Lowry represented the Tigers. Reese led the team in scoring with a 14.6 average and he was tied on the team with the most assists. His running mate Griffin had a 12.5 average and was tied with Reese in the assist column. Lowery had a 14.1 average and he hauled down over 320 rebounds, standing only 6'-3½". Lowery and CC's center Tom Roehling were the only juniors on the squad of 12.

Dan Howe and Kip Ormerod served as assistant coaches and Bob Dille was head coach. Charlie Imbody, Ron Magsamen, and Jim McDonnell were the student managers for the team while Jim Marquiss was the statistician and Charles VanPelt was his assistant.

Reserves compile 10–7 season record

Dan Howe and Kip Ormerod led the reserve basketball team to a 10-7 record for the 1967-68 campaign.

The reserves, paced by Louis Simmon's scoring and Gerald Sander's rebounding, averaged 42.5 points a game offensively and there defensive margin was 40.3 Don Banks was the only other player to finish the season with a double figure average next to Simmons.

The reserves also won the Bishop Luers Holiday Tournament as the Bengals defeated Columbia City 48-45 for the championship and Dan Howe's first for his first year as a coach. When North Side was still in suspension the Tigers drew the Redskins in the tourney and due to the suspension they couldn't play so Central went into the championship game automatically.

Coach Ormerod was in charge of the C team also as they played a five game schedule and their season ended with two wins and three defeats. The C team was composed of about seven or eight boys and four or five players off the end of the B squad.

Reserve football squad records 7–0–1 season

Ruling in favor of the reserve Bengals, the official gives the ball to the Tigers in a turnover.

Dan Howe, a newcomer to the Tiger coaching picture, coached the 1967 Reserve football team to a 7-0-1 record. Coach Howe was a former member of South Side's 1958 State Championship Basketball team.

The reserves scored impressive wins over Bellmont at 32-7, Central Catholic 28-7, Concordia 38-12, South Side 27-7, and the Snider Panthers 20-6. The tie was to North Side as the Redskins stopped the usually potent scoring Blue and White. The score was 0-0. Other scores in the games were Bishop Luers 12-0 and Elmhurst 12-6.

The team was led in scoring by Louis Simmons, six touchdowns; Neil Brabson, five; and Dan Taylor four. Julius Kennedy was quarterback of the team and he threw eight touchdown passes. The team scored a total of 169 points to 44 points for their opponents. This was an average of 21 points to 5½ points.

In Central's game with the Redskins the Tigers scored on a 95-yard run by quarterback Julius Kennedy but the score was nullified on a penalty.

Varsity football squad has new head coach

New head coach for football, Byron "Buzz" Doerffler coached the 1967 Varsity Grid squad to a record of 4-5. The team won its first four games and then lost the next five games.

The team played very close games losing only two by just one point and another one by a touchdown. The scores in the games were New Haven 24-7, North Side 18-0, Gary Andrean 31-12, and Snider 31-6. These were the wins. The losses were to South Side 21-12, Elmhurst 21-20, Central Catholic 13-12, Indianapolis Arlington 25-0 and Concordia 12-6.

The team was paced in scoring by North-South Shriners Charles Van Pelt with 49 points and Chester Adams with 36 points. All-City halfback Charlie Reese was second in team scoring with 42 points. Chester Adams also led the team in tackles. The Blue team out scored its opponents 155 to 117 total points. They also outrushed their foes.

Halfback Chester Adams gains another first down for the Tigers and takes part of the Arlington team with him. Charles Myatt, Glen Williams, and Ernest Hicks came over to see if they could give him help.

Looking for daylight, senior Chester Adams is being rushed by Indianapolis Arlington players. Bengal Jon Smith rushes to the aid of Chester in a losing cause.

Pigskin handlers establish 4–5 record

Seeing a wide opening on the field, senior fullback Charles Van Pelt picks up extra yardage. Tiger blockers run to the aid of Van Pelt.

Senior Charles Reese ponders about which route he should take to the goal line. With a little blocking from his teammates Reese looks determined to make it to the goal.

Hustlin' Paul Johnson evades tacklers as he heads down the field for a touchdown. Central blockers run to assist his efforts.

Senior Coleman Hatcher struts off the mat after being declared the winner in the 135 lb. division. Coleman wrestled his way through the Sectional and on to the regional by decisions similar to these.

Central's mighty wrestling team finished the season with a fine record of 8 wins and 3 losses. The Tigers also successfully finished first in the Decatur Four Way Tournament and finished first in the New Haven Four Way Tourney.

In the Sectional, where head coach Mr. Warren Eviston has lead his teams to two straight championships the previous two years, the Tiger grapplers finished third and qualified two boys for regional competition.

Senior Coleman Hatcher and junior Mose Haywood were the sectional winners as Haywood wrestled in the 106 pound weight division and Hatcher competed in the 136 pound class. Hatcher, through the year was never defeated, and he went 14 straight meets winning by pinning his opponents. Both advanced to the regional finals where they were defeated.

The only losses in the season were to two city foes Elmhurst and Concordia. The third loss was to East Noble at East Noble.

Here a Central grappler tries to work for a pin against a New Haven wrestler in a meet at Central.

The referee gives a decision in favor of Central by ruling that the wrestlers were on the mat which enables Andrew Barnes to pull his opponent further on the mat before his pin.

Layne Patterson struggles with his opponent in an attempt to pin him. Although Patterson is on the top of his opponent, he is determined to give him only a decision instead of a pin.

Gene Brownlee takes the baton to do his part in the relay race, leaving the rest of the field far behind him. The relay team went on to go to State with their exceptional speed.

Harold Hicks takes the baton from Gene Brownlee to complete the third leg of the relay race, as their opponents try very hard to catch up.

Cindermen race to end of season

Central's varsity trackmen under the coaching of Mr. Howard Schneider finished the 1967 season with a record of three wins and four losses.

The Schneidermen qualified one boy for the state meet and for Jessie White, Central's star high jumper, it wasn't his first trip as he has been down there since his sophomore year. White broke high jump records in the Hammond Indoor meet, North Side Relays, the Sectional, and in the Regional meet. He finished in fourth place at the state meet with a leap of 6 feet 6 inches although his best effort of the year was in a meet with Bishop Dwenger and Concordia where he cleared 6'8" and just barely missed 6'9".

Central placed sixth in the annual North Side Relays, Fifth at Goshen, and Fourth at Lime City. They were fifth in the Sectional and eleventh in the Regional.

Many underclassmen featured the track team as freshman Harold Hicks operated the dashes for the Tigers and his best time was 10.1 and 22.4 in the 100 and 220. The Bengals also had a good mile relay team that ran a 3:28.5 in the North Side Relays consisting of Hicks, Charles VanPelt, Gene Brownlee, and Darryl Patterson. Eugene Devbrow leaped in the long jump with the best leap being over 22 feet.

Mr. J. C. Butler and Mr. Barrie Peterson assisted coach Schneider as his assistant coaches and Frank Mosley was the team's student manager.

Darryl Patterson crosses the finish line far ahead of his opponent. As a member of the relay team, he has helped to gain many points for Central's track team.

Charles VanPelt, Gene Brownlee, Harold Hicks, and Darryl Patterson made up Central's relay team. The team had a very good record and they set many records with their exceptional speed.

Eugene Devbrow is up and in the air as he takes a mighty leap while participating in the running broad jump. Eugene garnered many points for the track team.

Cross country runners finish with 3–9 mark

Central's Cross Country team of 1967, was under the helm of new coach Barrie Peterson. The team recorded the same record it scored in the 1966 season. This record was 3-9. The team was paced by Captain Steve Smock and Runner of the Year Tom Jackson. Both positions were elected by the team members.

The Tiger team lost its first seven outings with loses to city foes Elmhurst, South Side, and Snider. The other four loses were to county foes Bellmont, East Noble, Bluffton, and New Haven. The scores of the city meets were Elmhurst 50-15, South 40-17, and Snider 49-15.

The team then came up with three victories in a row as they started by defeating Central Catholic 25-32, Bishop Dwenger 18-45, and Bishop Luers 26-29. With a slate of 3-7, the squad looked as though they would come out of their season slump when they met Concordia. The Cadets defeated the Blue 30-25. The last meet of the year saw the Tigers lose to North Side Redskins. In the sectional the team's best finisher was Steve Smock in 35th place.

Coach Barrie Peterson's Cross Country team consisted of (bottom row) Steve Smock, Tommy Jackson, Andrew Barnes, Ira Johnson, and Larry Burch.

Tennis team defeated Central Catholic

Central's 1967 tennis team went through a rebuilding season. The tough competition of teams from Warsaw, Bluffton, South Side, North Side, and Manchester, proved to be overpowering for the Bengal Boys. Coach John McCory's team picked up a win over the Irish of Central Catholic for their only win of the year. The team finished with a slate of 1-10. The score of the winning match was 5-2.

On May 9, the team was scheduled to play a match against the Bishop Luers Knights, but due to a conflict in the schedule the meet was postponed until the 1968 season.

Racquetman Leslie Howard executes a fine follow through in practice after one of his fellow teammates served.

To aid the Tiger mascot, girls dressed in outfits made of tiger design cloth, ran out on the floor at basketball games when the players were being introduced. They held up cards with the players names on them, help the cheerleaders out in a couple of cheers, and ran off the floor. The girls re-appeared at half-time for a half-time show, these girls were called the Tiger Kittens.

This is the third year in which the Tiger Kittens have made their appearances at the basketball games. Any girl who wanted to be a Kitten had to try out in a similar way in which the cheerleaders were selected. The Kittens this year were Dianne Tharp, Dorothy Agnew, Joanne Shade, Shirlene Davis, Ora Jean Blunt, Debbie Cannaday, and Susanne Manulow. Miss Pamela Perrigo was this year's Tiger Kitten sponsor. The Kittens practiced weekly with their sponsor, and several times with the varsity and reserve cheerleaders.

After half-time the Kittens take time out from their performance to rest before their next routine. The Kittens were seen at all the home basketball games.

Looking over his new litter of Kittens, Tiger mascot Frank Yancey, Jr., seems pleased with the Tiger Kittens chosen for the 1967-1968 basketball season. The Kittens are Dianne Tharp, Dorothy Agnew, Joanne Shade, Shirlene Davis, Ora Jean Blunt, Debbie Cannaday, and Susanne Manulow.

For home games the squad wore white uniforms with blue stripes down the sweater sleeves and trouser seams. Royal blue uniforms with white stripes diagonally across the sweater front and down the trouser side seams have been selected for away games.

Pep sessions in which the cheerleaders wore football or basketball uniforms and the varsity team members wore short cheerleading skirts have been some of the spirit activities planned by the yell squad. Boosting the Tiger at home and away, the cheerleaders have taken advantage of the bus trips sponsored by various school organizations to bring Tiger Power to opponents playing fields and courts.

Officers for the years have been Oscar Dowdell, varsity captain; Charles Green, publicity chairman; Jeanette Ambrose, assistant varsity captain; Diana Francis, wardrobe mistress; Crenda Hetherington, Reserve captain; Frank Yancey, spirit mascot; and Wendy Sanders secretary.

"We're ever behind you dear Central, for the Tigers will always come through," sing the varsity and reserve cheerleaders at the Sectional Pep Session.

Cheerleaders spirited teams to victories

The Class of 1970, many who attended the school as freshmen, have found themselves once again the Baby Bengals of Central High School.

Unified under elected officers, Frank Yancey, Jr., president, Jacqueline Pearson, vice-president, and Shirleen Davis, secretary-treasurer, and with the guidance of class sponsors, Miss Pamela Perrigo and Mr. James McFadden, the sophomores have gone on to let their strength be known.

The competition ribbon, won most often in pep session yell contests by the sophomores, is presented to Jackie Pearson, class vice-president, by Frank Yancey, Jr., president. Shirleen Davis, secretary-treasurer, wonders when her time will come.

Some seniors just have to be looked up to. Such is the plight of Charles Linn and Suzanne Lopez when ever they encounter upper (taller) classmen such as Charles Myatt and Jeanette Ambrose.

Officers, sponsors, guide class thru

Having completed their freshman and sophomore years at Central High School, the members of the Class of 1969 have joined the ranks of "upper classmen" and in joining have taken the lead in many classroom and extra-curricular activities.

The juniors have become participating members in the advanced math, shop, language, business and social studies classes. On the playing field, the lighted stage, and in the cabinets, the juniors have taken a leading role and are no longer serving just as bench warmers or committee members but are key members.

Following the leadership of class officers Herbert Carr, president; Wendy Sanders, vice-president; and Rita Ellis, secretary-treasurer, and the advice of class sponsors, Miss Leona Plumanns, Mr. Robert Dornte, and Mr. Richard Rian, the juniors have made the class of 1969 a model of tiger power.

Having completed the numerous preparations for their class play and prom and having done their part in the several school financial service drives, the juniors are ready for that final year as seniors.

For college, middle class takes PSAT

As any other girl should know, a girl and a telephone are not soon parted. However, Joanne Shade, Linda Binning, Judy Boone and Judy Boothby wait impatiently for their turn at the publications office phone as Barbara Dobyness seems to talk on and on.

Because one never knows who he might see between classes, it pays for him to look his best. Making a final check in the sewing room mirror are Colette Davis, Alfreda Walker, Wendy Sanders and Vickie Sims as they prepare for the male onslaught. Getting ready for the female onslaught, Cumby Walton, Fred Pena and Seno Brown take a last look in the mirrors of the candy machines near the main entrance.

It's a bird, a plane, no it's . . . a book dropped by Ernest Hick from the overpass between the two classroom buildings to Paul Johnson below who saves himself some steps as he goes through the alley on his way to the gymnasium building.

Not only are these students overjoyed because they are seniors but because they are able to leave school for half a day.

Seniors Joanne Jackson, Bruce Kipfer, and Sierra Gilbert make a count down of the time that they have left. These cautious clock watchers can hardly wait for their last day at Central.

Because the number of high school days are growing short for the seniors, Penny Ferguson gets an early start by cleaning out her locker with the help of her classmate Rosetta Barnett.

Dennis Walton pays to have his senior picture put into the yearbook. This is one of the many responsibilities that the seniors have to complete during their senior year at Central.

Senior Vicky York graduated with top honors of the Class of 1968. Vicky was named Valedictorian of her class, for maintaining an average above 95.

Seniors honored by classmates, teachers

Valedictorian Vicky York and Student Council president Steve Price were voted by their classmates as the Most Likely To Succeed from the Class of 1968. Pictured on the right is Joyce White practicing her class farewell address which is delivered on Recognition Day. Joyce White and Charles VanPelt were voted Best Boy and Best Girl Citizens of the Class of 1968.

Education, or vocatation, many seniors filled out several applications in their last year of high school, Senior Phyllis Payton fills out an application to a state university.

Not only writing out invitations for commencement, seniors were busy writing autographs and signing other seniors' memory books. Joyce White, Best Girl Citizen, signs class secretary, Mary Curry's memory book.

After two or three years of hearing Dean of Boys, Mr. Richard Horstmeyer, telling the boys to shave, seniors Wynston Perry, and Jerry Muff, decided it was their turn to give the Dean a shave.

Applications to fill out, termpapers to finish, or whatever the seniors had to do, they still found time to keep some of the senior traditions. Senior Willie Mae Starkes, and Loretta Jones exchange namecards.

THE MOON
and beyond

Bright, new horizons await today's students . . . new technologies . . . new advancements on all fronts . . . even the moon and whatever lies beyond.

How far you go in this space age depends partly on your imagination but primarily on your education and training. Conquering new horizons will demand more of today's graduates—more knowledge, more skills, more training and more specialization.

Our Free Enterprise system, with its high living standards, gives you an opportunity to "shoot for the moon" in any field. Whether or not your target is reached depends on how well trained you are to launch your career.

Empty chairs, tables, and books without scholars, signifies the close of another school day, which leads up to the close of another school year.

School year ends for many happy people

As this school year draws to a close, the students at Central realize that there will not be many more years for Central High School. Central is being phased out of existence in 1971 so next year's sophomores will be the last graduating class.

Some students eagerly awaited the last day of school while others were sad because their high school days are over. The staff of the Caldron is happy that this year has been recorded in the 1968 Caldron.
